Brennan Hall is home to The University of Scranton's Kania School of Business. This five-story, technology-rich, brick and glass building contains classrooms, faculty offices, student support areas, a dean's suite, chairpersons' offices, a 140 seat auditorium, and a cutting edge conference center.

The conference center provides a working forum that encourages interaction between the real world and the world of academia. The credo that adorns Brennan Hall's entryway reads "Of Those To Whom Much Is Given, Much is Expected." That sentiment is made tangible in the rich furnishings, the dramatic lighting, and overall spacious feel of the building. The heavy emphasis on technology incorporated throughout the building serves to support the Kania School's mission of providing its students with access to the most current teaching tools available. Fully able to support long distance learning and video conferencing, the facility enables the University of Scranton to effectively reach far beyond its own campus borders.
